MirEle

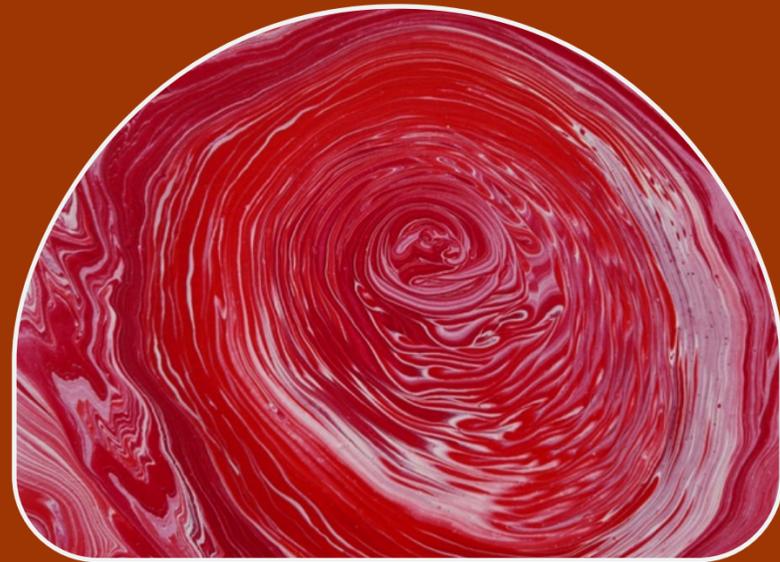

Mirele, the stage name of Elena Torgunakova, is an artist of Siberian origins who has lived in Italy since 2007. In 2025, she launched Atelier MirEle, a project that reflects her search for balance between spirit and environment.

Her preferred technique is Fluid Art, a fluid language that allows color to move freely on the canvas. She uses acrylics and epoxy resins to create works that integrate the principles of color therapy and spirituality.

Her compositions explore themes ranging from astrological energies to the symbolism of the iris, understood as a point of vision and awareness.

Each creation is conceived as an activator of well-being, intended to transmit light and positive vibrations to those who observe it. The result is art that becomes a message of harmony for the world around us.
